

DOTHAN TO HAVE MUCH-NEEDED PUBLIC HOSPITAL

DOCTORS WANT AUTO TAXES PUBLIC TO HELP FURNISH FUNDS

After a meeting of the County Medical Society today The Eagle was assured on good authority that Dothan will have a much-needed public hospital.

When actual work will be started and where the building shall be located are questions that will be worked out later, although a committee has already been selected to devise plans for raising funds.

It is not even known what the structure will cost but present estimates are that between $20,000 and $35,000 will be spent in the building.

Auto Public Aid.

The doctors who are leading the movement will ask for public aid as the hospital will be for the benefit of the public, and a thorough canvass will be made of Dothan, Southeast Alabama and certain parts of Florida and Georgia for funds with which to carry out the plans formulated.

The city and county will be asked to assist in the work and individuals will also be asked for their co-operation. To make the enterprise a success, the physicians must have the help of the public.

The hospital will be modern in every respect and will have a well equipped operating room, an anesthetizing room, a maternity room, private rooms for medical and surgery cases, a laboratory, charity wards for white patients and a charity ward for colored people.

Committee at Work.

The physicians at their meeting today appointed a committee and gave instructions for them to devise ways and means for raising funds. This committee will work out certain plans and render a report. Then a permanent committee will be selected and work will soon be under way.

Several of the leading physicians of Dothan are enthusiastic over the plans and see no reason why the project cannot be carried through successfully as a public hospital is needed.

State Licenses for Automobiles, etc., to be Paid Through Probate Office Under New Law.

Automobile owners and operators of repair shops, dealers in automobiles, etc., have until November 1 to pay the required state licenses, for after that date they become delinquent, according to Chief Clerk W. U. Acree of the Probate Office who has been looking up the new automobile laws of Alabama.

The receipt books were received at the probate office yesterday, says Mr. Acree. This work heretofore has been done through the department at Montgomery and is a new task for the probate judges of the state.

State License.

Each owner or operator of pleasure automobiles is required to pay a yearly license into the state coffers as follows: less than 25 horse power, $7.50; 25 to 30 h. p., $12.50; 30 to 40 h. p., $17.50; over 40 h. p., $20.00; dealers in automobiles, $50; garages for storing and repairing automobiles, $25; dealing in automobile supplies, $25; owners of motorcycles, $3.00, with side attachment, $5.00.

Mr. Acree says that none have paid the automobile licenses yet but it is expected that owners of machines, and others identified with automobiles, will begin to come forward and pay up. After November 1, an additional fee for the collection of the taxes will be charged.

President's Wedding Ring To Be Made From Band Of Gold

Washington, Oct. 20.—President Wilson today received a delegation of women and girls from California, who gave him a piece of gold from a California mine and also a bar of gold to make a wedding ring for Mrs. Norman Galt, his fiancée.

The delegation also brought petitions signed by 200,000 Californians urging the president to visit the San Francisco exposition before it closes in December. Later the women gave to Mrs. Galt a cluster of California orange blossoms.

The president told his callers he wanted to visit the San Francisco and San Diego expositions but had been too busy to go west. He said that he did not think he could go, but would change his plans if it were possible.

The petitions were presented by Altha McCuen, an 11-year-old school girl of San Francisco, whose letter of invitation to the President was the best of those written by the grammar school children of that city.

When the bar of gold was given to the president he accepted it smilingly. "That is a very happy thought," he added when told that a wedding ring for Mrs. Galt could be made of it.

Little Rock, Ark., Lawyer Kills Himself

Little Rock, Ark., Oct. 20.—John M. Rose, a prominent attorney, shot and killed himself in his office here today. Worry over business affairs is believed to have prompted his act. Mr. Rose acted as agent for a syndicate of English land-owners which recently suspended its activities in this state as a result of the war. He was a son of the late Judge U. M. Rose, who some years ago represented the United States at The Hague peace tribunal.

Six German Officers Break Parole

Washington, Oct. 20.—Germany's attention probably will be officially called to two commissioner officers and six war-ran officers of the interned German commerce raiders at the Norfolk navy yard who have broken parole.

Lieutenant Koch and Dr. Kruger Kroenke, of the Prinz Eitel Friedrich, have overstayed their leave four days. There is no trace of them. The six war-ran officers put to sea in the yacht Eclipso. They have not been seen since. It has been currently reported that they were taken on a Swedish steamer outside the capes and the yacht ashore.

No more Germans will have a chance to escape. The crews will be strictly confined to their vessels and additional marine guards may be posted. If necessary the crews will be transferred to guarded buildings.

DOTHAN GUARDS DRILLING HARD

Local Company Realizes that Drill Contest Thursday, Fair Week, Will be Hard to Decide.

The Dothan Guards will hold a preparatory drill in the Armory Sunday afternoon at 1 o'clock, Tuesday night at 7:30 and Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock, according to orders that have been issued by Captain C. J. Morris.

The Guards are preparing for Governor's day, Thursday, at the Dothan fair, at which time several Southeast Alabama companies, members of the Alabama National Guard, will compete for prizes to be offered for the best drilled companies.

The competition is expected to be so keen that the local aggregation contemplate putting in some hard practice work during the next few days in order to be well trained and in good condition for the contest.

Slocumb Coming

Among the visiting companies who will be in the contest is the new military company at Slocumb, and according to accounts received here the Geneva county boys are putting in full time and will be a factor worth reckoning with in the contests. Other companies will also be on hand and compete for the awards.

SHERIFF KILLS MOONSHINER IN MARSHALL RAID

Gadsden, Ala., Oct. 20.—As a result of trouble between moonshiners and the authorities in Marshall county, James Watkins, a moonshiner, was killed and Sheriff John Lewis had a narrow escape from death late yesterday. The fight occurred in a corn crib after the still had been raided.

Watkins and his brother, who operated the still, had gone to sleep in the crib. After Sheriff Lewis and the two deputies had destroyed the still, they searched the crib. Watkins began firing with a pistol, one ball passing through the breast of the sheriff's coat, slightly hurting him. The sheriff and his deputies returned the fire, and when the smoke cleared away Watkins was dead.

T. W. Howell of Headland was in Dothan today.

No more Germans will have a chance to escape. The crews will be strictly confined to their vessels and additional marine guards may be posted. If necessary the crews will be transferred to guarded buildings.

Not been announced.

Bresnahan Is In Trouble, Following Automobile Accident

Chicago, Oct. 20.—Injuries suffered by Roger Bresnahan, manager of the Chicago Nationals in an automobile accident Monday night were given as a reason for his not appearing in court here Tuesday to answer charges of driving an automobile while intoxicated and of assault with an automobile.

The charges were preferred by Richard P. Smiddy, a contractor, who, with his wife, suffered injuries, also serious enough to keep them out of court. Smiddy alleges a buggy in which they were riding last night was struck by a motor car driven by the club manager. The case was set for November 1.

Later Judge Sabath, in the municipal court, said that Bresnahan had gone to another court by mistake when the case was called, and that he later appeared before him and asked for an early trial so that he might return to his Toledo home.

"Mr. Bresnahan," intimated, said the judge, "that he might ask for a vacation of the continuance in order to have a hearing today or Thursday."

Mysterious Death of Young Man at Ozark

Ozark, Ala., Oct. 20.—A young white man was found in a dying condition in an out house belonging to Alexander Blackmon about two miles from here yesterday.

He had no paper on his person by which he could be identified, but the index and middle fingers were gone from his left hand. He seemed to be about thirty to thirty-five years of age, had blue eyes and dark hair, and all appearance was a man who had seen better days. He was buried in the potter's field.

Dr. W. S. Wyman Dead At Tuscaloosa

Tuscaloosa, Ala., Oct. 20.—William Stokes Wyman, aged 85, former president of the University of Alabama, and for fifty years a member of the faculty, died here this afternoon. For half a century he was leader in educational and public affairs in the state. He is survived by five children, Dr. B. L. Wyman, Birmingham; W. S. Jr., Charles A. Misses Melissa and Alice Wyman of Tuscaloosa, and Leon W. Ashley, Jr., of Montgomery, a grand-son. Funeral arrangements have not been announced.

SUFFRAGE LOSES SIXTH CIRCUIT IN NEW JERSEY

Jersey City, Oct. 20.—The big majority rolled up against woman suffrage grew today with the steady drizzle of belated returns.

Figures, still incomplete, pre-announced a verdict against "votes for women" of not less than 55,000 majority out of approximately 350,000 votes cast at yesterday's special election.

Of the state's 1,891 voting precincts, 1,652 districts gave the "anti" a majority of 56,678. In all of the 21 counties, apparently only the fisherfolk of Ocean honored the women with a majority, and in that rather sparsely settled county suffrage triumphed by a scant 200 votes.

Notwithstanding the tremendous majority against suffrage, women workers for the cause said today that, far from being dismayed, they were fired with greater zeal than ever. Before the last of their heavy-eyed watchers had filed her disheartening story, plans were already under way to cover the state with a campaign, which, if successful, would give women the vote in selecting presidential electors next spring.

New Fight Planned

Two weeks remain yet before the general election at which will be elected the entire membership of the lower house of the legislature and one-third of the senate. A canvass of all candidates for all the legislature with a view to branding them as for or against woman suffrage next spring will be determined at once, it was thought.

By pledging a majority of the candidates to give them the ballot in voting for presidential electors, it was believed that the adoption by the Legislature of a resolution to this effect could be secured. Suffrage workers claim that the legislature has the power to say who shall vote for presidential electors.

The anti-suffragists profess to see in yesterday's result a nettement for years to come of the agitation for woman suffrage in New Jersey. Under the State constitution, as it stands today, the suffrage amendment cannot be again placed before the electorate for five years.

Bergen county's home of the New York commuter, probably would have been in the suffrage column by a small majority, but for the city of Hackensack, which went against the Amendment.

The banner county of the anti-suffragists was Essex, where opponents of the amendment were aided by the attitude of both democratic and republican leaders, including James B. Nugent, former democratic state chairman. The county's majority was about 15,000.

The two to one vote and more against suffrage in President Wilson's own precinct in Princeton was no surprise to suffrage leaders, who long before had coded Princeton to their opponents.

SIXTH CIRCUIT IS PROTESTING NEW COURT STATUTE

Tuscaloosa, Ala., Oct. 20.—

The new law in reference to judicial circuits provides for only one judge for the Sixth Circuit. In the opinion of local attorneys the provision made for courts in the Sixth Circuit is inadequate and it is predicted that the chief justice of the supreme court will have to assign another judge to this circuit for a part of the time. A member of the bar here has called attention to the fact that the new law gives the tenth circuit composed of Jefferson county with a population of approximately 227,000, ten judges; the thirteenth circuit, composed of Baldwin, Mobile and Washington counties, and a population of 114,000, three judges; the eighth circuit composed of Cullman, Limestone, Madison and Morgan counties, and a population of 158,000, two judges; the fourteenth circuit, composed of Walker and Winston counties and a population of 50,000, two judges; the fifteenth circuit, composed of Autauga, Chilton, Elmore and Montgomery counties, with a population of 154,000 two judges; the sixteenth circuit, composed of Etowah, Elberton, and Blount counties, with a population of 81,500, two judges; whereas the sixth circuit, counties, with a population of 158,000 has only one judge.

Judge Henry B. Foster is being mentioned as a candidate for judge of the sixth judicial circuit. Judge Foster has numerous friends throughout the state and has made an enviable record as a trial judge. It is thought if he makes the race that he will have no opposition.

A GREAT VICTORY

The Birmingham News has scored a great victory for Arlie Harper, of Birmingham, candidate for commissioner. By the News getting in behind Mr. Barber, writing a column daily of double-headed ten point showing his entire unfitness for the office, it managed to put Mr. Barber over about two to one, in a race with Judge Lane, a mighty good man. We, at this distance, didn't have much interest in the two candidates in their run-off, but felt as soon as the News took an interest in the race that it would bear watching.

"The most cruellest cut of all" would be to reproduce a few of the News' editorials, telling how the voters were falling away from Barber like lice leaving a dead dog, but we didn't keep them. Maybe Mr. Barber did.

All of which goes to show that a great newspaper can't always make or break one's political future, unless there is merit behind the fight.

Mr. Glaw's local political luck is sticking to him, even in Bad Birmingham.

THE BALDHEAD CLUB.

President Wilson and ex-president William Howard Taft have been placed on the waiting list of the Baldhead Club of America which held its fourth annual convention in Winstead, Conn., last week, says the Memphis Commercial Appeal.

Four years ago the club was organized by John Rodemeyer. It has now a membership of over 600 distinguished American men of public life and private influence.

It was started more as a jest, but with four years' growth the club has emerged from obscurity to a position of public significance.

Congressman P. Davis Okey has been elected president for the ensuing year. Admiral Geo. Colvocoresses, retired, and Judge W. S. Seymore of the New York Court of Common Pleas were the speakers at the annual banquet. They delivered classics, which will be preserved by all baldheads who can secure copies of these unusual addresses. It is time that the baldheaded man should come into his own. There has too long been a superstition or inherited race delusion at the bottom of the common distrust of the baldheaded man. Socially it is plain the individual baldheaded man is often a law-abiding and useful citizen, and biologically he is certainly no more sinister or unearthly than a terrorist with clipped ears. Yet prejudice against him will not down. Every woman instinctively believes that the approach of a baldheaded man sets babies to squalling, and maintains with savage casuistry that this is proof positive of his secret nefariousness. It is also held, particularly by pious old maids, that all baldheaded men have violent tempers; that they are given to atheism and dissipation; that they are cruel to cats and canaries and that they eat too much. Before a jury of suffragettes the noble baldheaded man in the world would stand on chance at all. His defense might be perfect, but his baleful glacier would convict him.

In all of his prejudice there is little if any justification or justice. Far, indeed, from being a man of dissolute, sacrilegious character, the average baldheaded man is commonly a hard worker and a right moralist. All the world's most tollsome thinking has been done by baldheaded men.

It was a baldheaded man who invented the binomial theorem and a baldhead who promulgated the doctrine of infant damnation. John Rockefeller, the father of modern philosophy, is so bare of hair that he has to wear a fur cap summer and winter. Shakespeare grew bald writing his immortal plays. Plato had a high, smooth dome. Lord Bacon wore a wig. It is related that Francis Sylvius, discoverer of the cerebral artery bearing his name, had his cranium tattooed by a Genoese sailor to hide his baldness, and nearly died of the surgical shock as a result. Ben Johnson's cranium jotted up from his eye brows like a Matterhorn pinked by the rising sun.

But why go on? In the language of the comedian, you never see grass grow on a busy street. The long line of eminent baldheads extends from Noah to Dr. Wolf Hopper—stretches unbroken down the pages of history like a thread of pure gold in a fabric of jute and straw. It is a line as proud as the dynasty of Hapsburg princes. It is a line so stupendously glorious that it tempts one to mix metaphors.

President Wilson did not accept honorary membership in the Baldhead Club of America, but ex-President Taft in a humorously written letter to the president declared that he was not yet actually eligible, but that he would be with the club when it meets in New York a year hence.

Yes, with the organization of this now famous club the baldheaded man is beginning to come into his own.

PROFITABLE FRIENDSHIP.

Savannah Morning News.

President Wilson's advice to business men of Memphis, Tenn., to co-operate more liberally with the farmers of their neighborhood should be received by business men everywhere as the soundest counsel. The old sharp division between city and country is fortunately passing away as their interdependence is becoming more generally realized and means of communication between them are improved. Good roads, telephones, automobiles, rural free delivery of the mails, increasing numbers of rural readers of newspapers—these are some of the things that are helping the farmer and the city business men to understand how very closely bound together they are, how important it is for them to stand with each other if both are to be prosperous, and if the city and the country are to grow and develop as they should.

City and country do not advance at each others' expense, but, with each other's help. A city that has no hustling, progressive, prosperous back country is far short of the city it would be in everything that makes an up-to-date community if all around it were fine farms cultivated by wide-awake farmers. The city that sets itself up in antagonism to its back country is hitting a blow at itself; the farming communities that are quick to antagonize the near-by city are striking at their own future.

Especially in Georgia should there be closest friendship and co-operation between city and country. The coming of the boll weevil makes diversified farming necessary. Diversified farming means diversified factories, to help the farmer sell his new crops at good prices and in an ever-ready market. The people of the cities are potential consumers of his new crops and if farmers and city people are well acquainted the cost of transferring the crops from the farm to the city homes will be at a minimum. There is a great deal in the President's advice that does not appear on the surface. Friendship between city and country is a mighty fine foundation upon which to build prosperity for both.

The Deviding Line

THE division between good and poor quality is often marked by a small difference in price.

Seldom does slight saving in initial expense justify the trouble annoyance and expense caused by the failure of the cheaper article to give proper service.

We believe in our duty to call your attention to the superior merits of good quality goods. The difference between our prices and those of other stores means a difference in quality. Quality considered, our prices are right.

Work of Local Illiteracy Commission

During the summer a canvass of the town was made by members of the local Illiteracy Commission for the purpose of ascertaining the number of people beyond school age who could neither read nor write, and of measuring education. At the same time a list was made of all those of school age who were out of school last year and were not intending to go this year. A copy of the list was sent to the superintendent of the city school one to the board of education and another to the city council. Free tuition has been offered this fall to every child whose parents or guardian cannot afford to pay for his schooling. As a result our schools are crowded to overflowing right at the time when every effort has been made to practice the economy needed so much during this season of financial depression. The attendance this year is larger than ever before in the history of our schools and the skill and wisdom displayed in the management of this sudden influx of scholars has been nothing short of marvelous.

In view of the condition in our schools the local Illiteracy Commission felt it would militate against the best interests of our school children to attempt to put the adult illiteracy work on the already over-taxed public school teachers, and it was decided to organize what, for the lack of a better term, are called Community Classes. Mrs. J. V. Brown has charge of the class for those residing on Headland Avenue and adjacent streets; Mrs. Coley has the west end, while Mrs. R. L. Morris and Miss Minnie Blackmon are taking care of the class on the South Side.

Plans are afoot for the organization of a night class for the benefit of those whose work during the day prevents their attendance at day classes. Notice of this will be given later on if arrangements can be made. Volunteer service for teaching will be gladly received by the local commission.

Mrs. W. C. Fritter, Chairman.

Miss Mollie Hess Matthews has gone to Polkton, Ga., where she will be one of the bridesmaids at the Williams-Hurst wedding.

Mrs. Finch of Atlanta, Ga., is in the city, visiting Mrs. W. P. Cussery.

Miss Katie Ruth Sprenger, one of the popular teachers in the Grammar School will leave tomorrow to spend the week end with her mother in Prattville.

The Piano.

The janitor of a hall out in the country was asked by an enter-tainer from the city if there wasn't a piano that he could use for the evening's entertainment. says the Baltimore Sun.

"Wall, yes, there is a piano down in the cellar," said the janitor, "but you couldn't play on it; bestways not as it is, for it's full of holes."

Then the janitor bawled to his wife: "Susan, where's the works of that piano?"

And Susan's voice floated down from upstairs: "Ain't they out in the garden?"

BIG EATERS GET KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts at First Sign of Bladder Irritation or Backache.

The American men and women must guard constantly against Kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from over-work, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.
